

Old-New Tashkent

Tashkent is not only the capital of Uzbekistan, but also its largest city. Located in the north-east of the country, near the border with Kazakhstan. Its population is over 2.5 million. The city is already over 2,200 years old, but it does not seem ancient: constant development, construction, improvement only benefit its appearance.

It is simply impossible to find tourists indifferent to Tashkent, because it harmoniously combines age-old wisdom and modern technologies. The cultural base also commands respect: there are many theaters and museums.

It is easier for lovers of antiquity to agree on an excursion program than to try to embrace the immensity on their own. There are many architectural monuments, old buildings, mausoleums, settlements, mosques and temples in the city, it is better to examine several at once. Young people visit cinemas, parks, clubs, entertainment centers, which are abundant in the city.

The most popular places of recreation for citizens and guests of the city are:

1. Botanical Garden;
2. Japanese garden;
3. Theater of Opera and Ballet named after A. Navoi;
4. Zoo;
5. Broadway;

6. Water park;

7. Tashkent TV tower;

8. Central Park and etc.

There are both fashionable hotels and inexpensive hostels in Tashkent, so finding accommodation for the duration of your stay in the city will not be difficult. be sure to visit Tashkent and you will not regret it.
